

VICTOR YANG

SENIOR ANALYST, JLC

Victor Yang has over 20 years of experience in petroleum analysis, particularly about China's oil market. He joined JLC in 2017, after working with ICIS for over 10 years. Victor has been a valued speaker at top-tier international energy forums and webinars including those held by OPEC, The Gulf Intelligence, Platts and LSEG. His professionalism has been well recognized by the industry and his informative speeches on development of China's oil market have always been much anticipated. With his deep understanding of the oil market, Victor is also actively engaged in the training of young analysts and editors in the industry.
